Thought for the Week:

'Repent', in other words, 'Change your life'. Today Jesus speaks those same words to you: 'Take heart, I am here with you, allow me to enter, and your life will change'. Jesus knocks at the door. That is why the Lord gives you his word, so that you can receive it like a love letter he has written to you, to help you realise that he is at your side. His word console and encourages us. At the same time, it challenges us, frees us from the bondage of our selfishness and summons us to conversion. Because his word has the power to change our lives and to lead us out of darkness into the light. – Pope Francis

Third Sunday of Ordinary Time (Year A)
24th & 25th January 2026

Dear Friends,

The passage grave at Newgrange in Co. Meath is one of the great pre-historic sites in Europe. Inside, a long stone passage leads to a dark and eerie central chamber. Each year at winter solstice, on the longest dark night of the year, a small group of people squeeze into the dark chamber and wait for the dawn. When the sun rises it shines fantastically through a chink in the stone and lights up the central chamber.

The people that lived in darkness has seen a great light, on those who dwell in the land and shadow of death a light has dawned. The sun shines through the darkness at Newgrange and a few days later, while still in the darkness of mid-winter, we Christians celebrate the birth of Jesus, the light of the world. The Gospel reading today from Mathew Chapter 4, goes to great pains to tell us that Jesus 'Settled in Capernaum, a lakeside town on the borders of Zebulun and Naphtali' - so that we would realise that Isaiah's prophecy was being fulfilled in Jesus. And so, we can pray in faith. The Lord is my light and my help (Ps 26).

'There's a stretch to the evenings', we say as we desperately search for signs of light and hope in these dark January days. The days are dark and the times seem dark. Tennyson's verse from In Memoriam seems apt for our times: "Our little systems have their day, they have their day and cease to be they are but broken lights of thee, and thou O Lord, art more than they".

Sometimes we need to experience the darkness before we appreciate the light. Our attention and focus must be Jesus., the Light of the world and not broken human lights – because, as the poet says: "They are but broken lights of thee and thou O Lord, art more than they".

God Bless
